DEATH AND DESOLATION

THE DEAD AND DYING SINCE YESTERDAY.

The Fever Reported to have Broken out in Hopefield, Arkansas---The Cotton Prohibition.

MEMPHIS, September 17.—Two new cases and five deaths since last night. Among the number is Noland Fontaine.

The constitutionality of the order of the State Board of Health, which prohibits loose cotton being brought into the city and ginned during the epidemic, is to be tested. An injunction has been prayed for and awaits the action of the judge, to whom a petition has been sent.

The weather is clear and pleasant. The undertakers report nine interments since last evening: Frederick Volkmar, Mollie Madden, George B. McLaffey, John Arighi, Frederick Deitrick, Dr. A. Campbell, Francis Wells, William Earnest and one colored person. Dr. Ess, sent to investigate the cause of the fever reported on the Paducah, eleven miles north of the city, returned late last night and reports the case not yellow fever.

BROKE OUT IN A NEW PLACE.

Yellow fever is reported to have broken out in Hopefield, Arkansas. That State and Tennessee have been so rigidly quarantined, however, for the past two months it is impossible to learn the truth of the statement.

LATER.

WASHINGTON, September 17.—The cases of yellow fever reported to have appeared at Hopefield, Arkansas, are said to be wholly imaginary. The inspectors at Memphis, in a telegram to the National Board of Health, says no cases exist at Hopefield.

NEW YORK, September 17.—At a meeting of Kane Lodge of Free Masons last night the grand master of the State of New York was asked by resolution to take steps for the collection of funds to relieve the distress existing among the Masons in Memphis. The amount collected at the post office in boxes for the orphans of Memphis, $629.84, was ordered to be telegraphed to Memphis to day.

An Indian Outbreak.

CHEYENNE, Wy, T., September 16.—On the 10th instant Agent Meeker, at the White River Colorado Agency, wrote Governor Pitkin a letter stating that the Ute Indians objected to doing more farming, and that Chief Johnson had assaulted him, driving him from his house; that he had conferred with other chiefs and they laughed at the assault, agreeing that Meeker might might proceed with the plowing, but that they would do no more of it. Mr. Meeker says he feels that none of the whites are safe, and has no confidence in the Indians. Since this letter, reports have reached here that the agency buildings have been burned, and that the Indians are raiding along the White and Bear rivers. No definite reports of murders being committed have yet been received. Troops have been ordered to the agency. It is supposed that the prospecting and mining in the North park, which is the hunting ground of the Utes, has excited the outbreak.

Cetewayo Captured.

LONDON, September 17.—The following dispatch has just been received from South Africa via Aden:

CAPETOWN, August 29.—Marter captured Cetewayo yesterday. Marter was in command of a squad of dragoons.

A CONFIRMATION.

The agent of the Eastern Telegraph Company, at Aden confirms the report of the capture of Cetewayo, by Major Marter, with a detachment of the First Dragoons serving under Lord Giffard, in north-east Zululand on the 20th of August.

The Settlement of Kansas.

LAWRENCE, Kan., September 17.—Yesterday was the grandest day in the history of Kansas. The quarter centennial celebration of the settlement of the State was a magnificent success. Business was fairly suspended and the citizens turned out en masse. General Pope and other military officers were present. Letters were read from Amos Lawrence, Boston, ex-Senator Trumbull, of Illinois, Secretary Evarts, Secretary Sherman, Senator Ingalls, Rev. James Freeman Clark, John G. Whittier, Martin F. Conway and others. Rev. Edward Everett Hale, John W. Forney and others addressed the assemblage.

The Fire Record.

DELAVAN, Wis., September 17.—The Deaf and Dumb Asylum was totally destroyed by fire last night. The pupils, numbering one hundred and forty-seven, escaped with their baggage. Loss, $100,000; no insurance.

NEW YORK, September 17.—D. F. Tieman's paint factory, 129th street, was burned. Loss, $30,000.

Lottery Drawing.

COVINGTON, Ky., September 17.—In the Kentucky State Lottery No. 30,530 drew $15,000; the ticket was held in New York; No. 91,385 drew $8,000; No. 73,935 drew $5,000; No. 83,346 drew $2,500; No. 43,948 drew $2,500.

Fatally Burned.

WHEELING, W. Va., September 17.—D. O. Woods, while mixing paint, spilled some on a stove, which set fire to the house, and Woods was severely and his wife fatally burned.

The Fall River Strike.

FALL RIVER, September 17.—A meeting of the employers looking to the settlement of the trouble with the spinners has been held and the matter taken under consideration to be reported on in a few days hence.

From the White House to the Camp.

CLEVELAND, September 17.—President Hayes left for Youngstown this morning to attend the reunion of the Twenty-third Ohio, his old regiment.

Aquatics.

HALIFAX, September 17.—The single scull race here to-day between Smith and Morris was won by the former by four lengths.

Death of a Bishop.

LONDON, September 17.—Rev. Charles Baring, Bishop of Durham is dead.

Strike of Cotton Operatives.

LONDON, Sept. 17.—The cotton operatives at the Bedford new mills at Leigh yesterday struck against the 5 per cent. reduction of wages. The masters threaten to close the mills, which are extensive, alleging that they can buy goods cheaper than they can produce them. The masters at Ashton have refused to grant an interview to the operatives. The self-actor minders who form the main strength of the strike would resume work if notices of the reduction of wages were withdrawn, if only for a month, and the question of reduction was then discussed, if trade had not, meanwhile, improved. Masters, however, feel a difficulty in departing from their resolution, now that the reduction of wages has been accepted at Staley Bridge and elsewhere.

Massachusetts Politics.

WORCESTER, September 17.—The Butler Democratic Convention was called to order at 11.20 o'clock this morning with one thousand seven hundred and twenty-three delegates present, and organized by the election of John K. Tarbox as president. Mr. Tarbox then addressed the convention at length upon the issues of the day, after which a committee was appointed by the chair upon credentials and resolutions. Speeches were made by Messrs. Lathrop, of Springfield, Riley, of Boston, and others, after which the convention took a recess.

The Result in Maine.

AUGUSTA, September 16.—Returns of the legislative election have been received from all the senatorial districts and from all representative districts but one. The result is as follows: In the senate the Republicans have chosen 19 members, and the Democrats and Greenbackers combined, 12 members. In the House of Representatives the Republicans have chosen 90 members and the Democrats and Greenbackers combined, 60. In one district the result is in doubt. The Republican majority on joint ballot will be 37.

Under the constitution the legislature in joint ballot chooses the executive counsellors and all other State officers. It is reported that in the town of Canaan, Somerset county, the vote returned is twenty-three in excess of the number of legal voters as shown by the poll-list. The town gave a large Democratic majority, and should its entire vote be vitiated it will make the senatorial vote in Somerset county very close and possibly add to the Republican majority in the Senate.

LATE NEWS NOTES.

Parole is largely backed for the Cesarewitch stakes.

Spain is getting embarrassed by the agitation in Cuba.

Strikes and mill stoppages are still the order of the day in England.

The Gortschakoff and Bismarck misunderstanding has caused considerable alarm in Europe.

London papers reiterate the charge of bad faith against the Ameer of Afghanistan. Yakoob, however, professes unalterable fidelity.

Admiral Charles Boarman, whose death at Martinsburg, W. Va., has been announced, was a native of Maryland, and had been in the service about 68 years.

A statement prepared by the bureau of statistics shows that during the month of August last there were exported from this country bacon, hams, beef, pork, lard, butter and tallow to the value of $7,895,108.

Judge Van Brunt, of the New York Supreme Court, decides that Mayor Cooper had no power to remove Police Commissioner Wheeler, and makes absolute the writ of prohibition enjoining the mayor from proceeding against the commissioner.

The aquatic contest between Captain Boyton and Captain Webb, which was arranged a week ago to take place in Boston harbor, is off. Captain Webb refuses to go to Boston unless he is guaranteed $500 without regard to the stakes depending upon the trial, which the managers have declined to accede to.

The trial at Bridgeport, Connecticut, of Buckholtz for the murder of Schultz continues. The defense yesterday excepted to the indictment as faulty in designating deceased as John H. Schulte, his real name being Johann Heinrich Schulte, though numerous interpreters swore that John is a proper translation of Johann.

Advices from Sitka report a much improved condition of affairs, owing to the measures taken by Captain Beardslee, of the corvette Jamestown, and the formation of a civil government. Mining is being actively prosecuted, several promising leads have been discovered and steps taken for their development.

Adolph Bernhardt, of New York, aged seventeen years, committed suicide on Sunday by hanging himself. His father is married the second time and the stepmother was not kind to him, and insisted that he and his elder brother should leave home and go to live with an aunt.

The silver certificate bids fair to take the place of the standard silver dollar to a very great extent. The banks here now demand them in place of silver, and then pay them out the same as greenbacks. The certificate is the same size as the greenback and just as convenient.

The annual meeting of the Supreme Council 33d degree, A. and A. Scottish Rite, northern Masonic jurisdiction of the United States, was opened in Philadelphia yesterday morning. In the afternoon the 33d, degree was conferred, followed by a reception in the evening.

The Governor of Virgina has appointed the following delegates to the national military convention, which meets in St. Louis on the 20th inst. General Dabney H. Maury, General James L. Kemper, General William Terry, Colonel Thomas H. Carter, Colonel Scott Ship, Colonel John W. Riley, Major Holmes Conrad, Major William White and Rev. J. William Jones.

Henry C. Dibble, who was assistant and acting attorney general of Louisiana under Governor Kellogg in 1874, has filed a libel suit in the United States Circuit Court against the New Orleans Picayune, claiming $25,000 damages for the publication of a charge that he (Dibble) shot and killed a reporter named West on the 14th of September, 1874.

Tennessee, to which a Boston colony is going, has a gold mine in the Coker creek region, which, it is predicted, will turn out to be a veritable bonanza. The Tennessee papers are certain that there is gold enough in the region mentioned to pay off the bonded obligations of the State, and also the national debt of the United States.

A letter from Carlisle, Pa., states that Captain Henry C. Pratt, United States army, is now in the Indian country securing 250 pupils for the new industrial school at Carlisle barracks. Captain Pratt will return on or about the 9th of October with his pupils. On Wednesday last two Indians from the Hampton (Va.) schools arrived at the barracks, and these two will assume the duties of teachers when the young redskins arrive from the West.

A dspatch from Wheatland reports that William B. Rodder and his wife Lena, at whose house the two giris Ida Dunn and Cora Heslep were so brutally assaulted some months ago, have been arrested charged with the crime. It will be remembered that the two giris were struck several times with some heavy instrument and nearly killed. The object of the crime has been as difficult to determine as its perpetrators.

SECRETARY EVARTS.

HIS SAFE RETURN FROM HIS CANADIAN TRIP.

The Fishery Question—His Visit One of Purely Official or Personal Etiquette—New York Politics.

Washington Republican, 17th.

The return of Secretary Evarts from his summer vacation to his official post of duty yesterday was the signal for a visit at the State Department sooner or later during the day of nearly if not quite all the newspaper men in town—newsless news-hunters—eager to learn who had been selected to fill the vacant foreign missions, what has been done regarding the Fishery question, and what the Secretary might have to say regarding the political outlook. And it is safe to say they all returned from their visits wiser in knowing more than before they went, if not in learning exactly what they went for.

In the first place, he had no disclosures to make regarding the foreign appointments, whereupon each scribe instantly made a deduction in favor of his own personal favorite, on the basis, no doubt, that no news is good news. Hence the dispatches sent "abroad" last night will necessarily conflict as far as they relate to this subject, and Fenton will be ahead in one locality, while Frelinghuysen will boom in another, and Ramsey will be quoted above par elsewhere.

As regards the Fishery question, the Secretary had very little to say. It is understood, however, that during his recent visit to Canada this matter was incidentally discussed in casual conversations which occurred between him and the Dominion officials, the latter claiming, perhaps, that they were vested with treaty-making powers. It is not believed that the Secretary admitted this claim, if it was really and earnestly made, for it is not to be supposed that the powers of the colonial government are vicarious to the extent of completing a diplomatic convention. He had not received the report of Collector Babson, who was sent to Canada some time ago to make certain requisite investigations into this question, and it may be safely announced that no new developments have been reached in this matter.

The Secretary's visit to Canada was purely one of official or personal etiquette, and in response to repeated invitations from Governor-General Lorne, none of which he had previously been able to accept. He found the Governor-General to be a hospitable host and earnestly and intelligently devoted to the duties of his new position. The Princess Louise herself is a charming young woman of great versatility of intelligence, who is winning golden opinions from the people of the Dominion, by means of her simplicity of character and habitual generosity. If the vice-royal couple shall visit the United States, as they undoubtedly in due course of time, before they return to England, he thinks the Princess will make a very favorable impression upon our free American citizens.

The general political outlook in that country is assuring, in his opinion, and the desired result of Republican success seems to be among the certainties of the future. The victory in Maine, he thinks, is especially gratifying, and while Senator Blaine did not succeed in capturing the enemy in line of battle, he thinks he should be satisfied with the certainty that he will soon be able to "sleep on the field." He has no doubt of the success of the Cornell-Hoskins nominations in New York; thinks the ticket will poll the full Republican strength, but knows that victory is not to be won unless it is earned. With this knowledge he proposes to take an active part in the campaign, and will therefore make several speeches in the State at the proper time—certainly one at the Cooper Institute at some time yet to be fixed.

STATE NEWS.

[Correspondence under this head is furnished by regular contributors to the News.]

GRANVILLE.

OXFORD, September 15.—Oxford was the scene of much excitement and enthusiasm to-day. It was announced by posters that several distinguished speakers would address the people here as this was the appointed time for the beginning of work on the Oxford and Henderson railroad. A large concourse of people, composed of the young and the old and the beauty and intelligence of this community were present and greeted the speakers, Messrs. Wortham, Williams, Amis and Beasley, with frequent demonstrations of applause. When H. G. Cooper cast the first spade of dirt, for which he paid $125, the enthusiasm of the crowd was intense and burst forth in vociferous cheers. A new era now dawns on Oxford. Its future importance is assured. The eligibility of its location will soon make it one of the foremost tobacco markets in the State. It has already attracted the eyes of men of capital and presents a fine opening for the artisan, the manufacturer, and, in short, for all who desire to locate in a pleasant and prosperous town.

Several sales of real estate have been effected here within a few days past.

H. G. Cohen and John Johnson each intend erecting two mammoth warehouses for the sale of leaf tobacco. Captain A. H. A. Williams proposes to build a large brick factory for manufacturing tobacco. Other buildings are projected.

Several gentlemen from Virginia have been prospecting in our town with the view of settling permanently with us.

Strangers who are worthy receive a warm welcome to our village, whose population of 1,500 inhabitants we hope soon to see reach quadruple that number.

DAVIE.

MOCKSVILLE, September 16.—Our new Judge (Gilmer) is holding Court here this week. He is very pleasant in his manner of doing business, and I think is giving entire satisfaction. S.

BUNCOMBE.

ASHEVILLE, September 15th.—The weather is remarkably cool, last night and this morning feels cool enough for frost.

The tradesmen of the place report trade as tolerably good and promising. Quite a number of new business firms going up in the place.

Several storage buildings are being constructed. Prominent among these are the ones being erected by E. T. Clemons, G. H. Mears, S. R. Chedister & Bearden Rankin & Co., the last named being a tobacco warehouse, intended to be occupied by one Mr. Wilder from Virginia, who has come into our midst, with the intention of reaping for himself and the community generally, some of the benefits of a warehouse in a tobacco region.

Yesterday was the time for going to creek camp meeting, and quite a number of the citizens of Asheville availed themselves of this opportunity and went; among the number was myself. We had, I might say, a joyful time, for jollity it seems has gotten to be the prime motive for such goings. The day for such meetings in this country has long since vanished and they should always be confined to primitive regions.

On the road to and from the grounds we passed by the grave (an isolated grave) of one who had the audacity to slay himself as a disappointed lover. The grave stands not more than twenty yards from the road, with nothing more to mark the place where he lies than a couple of unhewn stones. The occurrence is one which took place many years ago but is familiar and proverbial with all the older inhabitants of the community. He would be a fit subject, and the place of his burial, I think, a fit place, for the erection of a monument as an emblem of old time affections and human folly, with an inscription, a warning to the fair sex against hasty answers and a trifling with the affections of those whom they to such a degree hold in their hands.

Reems Creek camp-meeting is the closing one of the season.

I was surprised to see on yesterday that the farmers are foddering; did not realize that the season was so far advanced.

The corn where I notice the fodder stripped from presented a good growth. I noticed some fine tobacco. Fruit crop seems to be almost a failure. Fruit so scarce that I fear if the Legislature should meet the coming winter Captain Natt Atkinson would have to ask for some other medium of exchange.

Though camp meetings and other events of the season afford to some such brilliant courting expeditions; and though Mr. "P." and Miss B." whom I reported a week ago as far advanced, were in attendance on yesterday and other occasions, no marriages have occurred in the village for the past week, and few in the county. Hope to be able to record some not very far distant, and especially to record the removal of Mr. "P's" labors on yesterday when he preferred, though the balance of his company were traveling fast, and though he had the opportunity to do the same, and though the curtains of night were fast falling round, to linger and go slow.

IREDELL.

COOL SPRINGS, September 15.—The weather is cold and threatens frost. Trade dull.

The South Yadkin Association met on the 11th at New Bethany church, in this county. Rev. J. B. Boone was elected moderator. Dr. Pritchard, president of Wake Forest College, and Dr. Hatcher were among the distinguished visitors. Dr. Pritchard made an able speech on education. The Baptists of this section believe that Wake Forest College will prosper greatly under his administration. J. D.

MOORE.

CARTHAGE, Sept. 17.—The weather is extremely dry; all the water mills have stopped running.

Trade is picking up. New cotton has just commenced coming in. Prospects for the fall trade are tolerable good.

As the fall advances we hear of a large number of pretracted meetings all over the county.

The young men of this place have organized a brass band. They have some fifteen instruments and the instructors say that they are learning very fast.

Crops are not so good as was expected some time back. The dry weather has cut off the late corn. We will make about two-thirds of a cotton crop.

All the merchants of Carthage are in New York. There is no inland town improving any more than this place. Turn which way you may, you will see new houses just finished or under way.

Eleven new houses have been put up in the last few years and there are three at this time going up. For health, good society, church privileges and general prosperity no town can beat us.

ENGLAND'S TROUBLE.

The Ameer's Complicity in the recent Massacre Assured.

LONDON, September 15.—A dispatch received by the telegraph from Simla to-day says it is believed, in the best informed circles in India, that the Ameer was undoubtedly in complicity with those who committed the assault upon the British embassy at Cabul, if he is not guilty of having directly instigated the affair himself. Facts pointing in this direction are coming in possession of the English authorities. The pretended imprisonment of the Ameer is believed to have been resorted to for the purpose of deceiving the British as to his loyalty to them. It is held that there can be but little question of his secret association and communication with Russian agents for the purpose of organizing a combined defense of the Russians and Afghans against the English troops. It is known that the Ameer has issued an order to his subordinates at Cabul to cease all communication with the British. In view of this fact none of the English commanders will hereafter place any reliance upon his co-operation in their advances upon the insurgents. The struggle will now probably be between the British columns and the entire Afghan strength, headed by the Ameer himself. The gravity of the situation is immensely increased by these new developments. There can be no longer any doubt of a long and possible disastrous campaign. Military movements are made with great caution. The mountain tribes are showing unmistakable hostility to the English, the Mohmunds, an intensely hostile and warlike tribe, occupying Dakka, and the other tribes of Afghans cover all approaches to Cabul.

His Mother's Tombstone.

Baltimore American.

One of the most original and extreme cases of swindling ever recorded was brought to light in San Francisco court the other day, where it was shown that the plaintiff had had the date on his mother's tombstone changed, in order to make it appear that she had died a year earlier than was the fact, as under the law then in force, the mother's half to a piece of property went to the children. The date given as to the time of her death was six days prior to the time a change in the law was made.

That Base Metal!

Washington Post.

While some of our people are growing red in the face in their terrible excitement over the fact that we have nine hundred tons of silver dollars on hand, we don't hear of any row among the French, although there are 9,000 tons of silver in the bank of France Our silver is doing its intended work quite effectually. A good deal of it is working into the channels of trade, and the balance counts the same as gold in the coin reserve. There is no occasion for any agony on this score.

The Visiting Military.

Wilmington Review, 16th.

The Oak City Blues, Oberlin Vance Guards and East Raleigh Guards, under command of Lieut. Col. A. J. Haywood, arrived in this city last night. These three companies compose the 4th Battalion (colored) of the North Carolina State Guards, and hail from Raleigh. They were to have paraded on the principal streets this afternoon.

AMONG THE MORMONS.

THE TROUBLE ABOUT BRIGHAM YOUNG'S WILL.

How His Estate is Mixed Up with Church Property---The Question of Polygamy Among Them.

Philadelphia Times, 16th.

A gentleman, just returned from Salt Lake City, who has business relations which take him there every year, states that the present feeling between the Mormons and Gentiles is not fully understood in the East. The suit against the executors of Brigham Young, one of whom was the Mormon apostle and delegate in Congress, Cannon, was not instigated by any of the Gentiles, but by the heirs of Brigham Young themselves. The original mover in the suit was one of the daughters of Brigham Young, a not altogether reputable person. The suit has thus far been successful, and the Court has appointed a receiver. The prospects are that the heirs will recover a large amount of improved real estate, which yields a large revenue. The proceedings in the court and out of it show that Brigham Young was either very careless in the management of the estate that he held in trust for the Church, or intentionally mingled the funds of the Church with his own private estate. Equitably considered, Elder Cannon, Apostle Taylor and their associate executors attempted to divide the estate as it should be, separating Brigham Young's private property from that which, it is well known by the executors themselves and by the public generally, belonged to the Church. It was easy for the executors in many instances to make such a distribution, but the law does not recognize any such assumption of authority as the executors exercised. Brigham Young's estate stands plainly in the name of Brigham Young, without any mention of any trust, and no trusts can be implied. The heirs of Brigham Young—as varied in character as they are in numbers—will be benefited by this carelessness or crime on the part of their polygamous sire.

"But who," I asked, "is going to tell who Brigham Young's heirs are? They are reputed to be as numerous as the sands of the sea. Certainly the law does not recognize the fruits of polygamous marriage."

"Of course not. The children born in polymous marriage are certainly, under the law, illegitimate. Those only can inherit who were born of the first or lawfully wedded wife. There are a number of these—certainly three sons, and some daughters. The original wife herself is still living, and would, of course, under the legal distribution of the estate, be entitled to her homestead and dower share. She has suffered much and is still controlled by the marvelous fanaticism which covers all her troubles beneath the veil of her libidinous faith.

"The end of the litigation about the great estate is not yet. The heirs will not abandon the contest. They will not be troubled by any scruples about the dignity of the Church. The moment the pocket of a Mormon is touched he is as keen in self-interest as other mortal men. Indeed, the bonds of Mormonism sit very lightly upon some of the richest men who nominally adhere to that faith. It is worthy of notice, perhaps, that some of the richest Mormons are not polygamists. Williams, for instance, the Delegate in Congress who preceded Cannon and now a wealthy banker and railroad man, never had but one wife. Nearly all the Welch Mormons, of whom there are a considerable number, never had more than one wife. The Welch women are notorious in their opposition to polygamous marriage, although they adhere to the faith in other respects."

"Do the Mormons interest themselves in mining?"

"Scarcely any. They devote themselves principally to agriculture. There can be but little farming done in Utah, except by the Mormons. Nothing can be raised there except by irrigation, and irrigation is dependent upon the mountain streams. Wherever a stream comes down into the valley from the mountains there the Mormons have a farm. They control the mouths of nearly all these streams, but the mining business is almost entirely carried on by Gentiles."

"What is to be the outcome of this anomalous condition in our political system?"

"There is certainly more excitement in Utah than there has been for many years. The end of it will ultimately be that polygamy must go. Then Mormonism can remain, with its follies and fanaticisms, until the people abandon it or it dies of its own weakness. There will be more attempts at legislation this winter, of course. The only effectual way of crushing polygamy is to so amend the jury law as to enable the United States marshals to draw all the jury. Under existing law they can only draw half of it, and the remaining half is filled by the Mormons. This, in a criminal case, would nearly always secure a hung jury."

Ice Manufactory.

Wilmington Review.

There is a movement on foot to utilize the old Clarendon iron works building, in the southwestern portion of the city. A company has been formed in New York by Mr. Woodruff, the owner of the building, who proposes to manufacture ice. It is to be hoped the enterprise may prove a success.

The Way to Do It.

Wilmington Star.

A new way of getting rid of old stock was put into practice by an agent of a Northern seed house yesterday. He gathered up all of the stock of garden seed in the hands of his agent here and burnt the packages in the street.

Red Fox.

Durham Recorder.

We saw in the office of Mr. A. W. Graham at Hillsboro the brush of a red fox which had been caught on Monday week by Mr. Arch. Cates and Ruffin Sikes after one of those hard runs the red is sure to give. This variety is rare in Orange, though in the southwestern part becoming more common. Across the Chatham line, in the Cane Creek and Hickory mountains they are often put up and give fine sport. A race is generally a day's work, and not a mere morning spurt.

The New Vicar Apostolic.

Wilmington Review.

The Rev. Mark S. Gross, pastor of St. Thomas' Catholic church, of this city, has been designated Vicar Apostolic of North Carolina, by His Holiness, the Pope, and will, as soon as may be after his induction into office, enter upon the duties and responsibilities of his new position. This position is that of a bishop of the Catholic church, of equal power, dignity and authority with any bishop of the Church, the only difference being that the field of labor is not elevated to that of a diocese, there not being a sufficient number of Roman Catholics within the limits of North Carolina to cause it to be made a diocese.

Father Gross is a native of Baltimore, Maryland, and a brother of Bishop Gross, of Savannah, and is about thirty-five years of age. He was educated at St. Mary's College, a Catholic institution in Baltimore, where he was fitted for the priesthood. He came to this city in 1868, which was shortly after his ordination, with Archbishop, then Bishop Gibbons, and has been the pastor of St. Thomas' Church ever since. His duties will frequently call him to diferent portions of the State, but will not necessarily cause his removal from this city. He is held here in the highest estimation as a God-fearing and God-serving man, a true priest, and one who fearlessly, truthfully and unceasingly fulfills the duties to which in youth his life was devoted. His elevation in the Church is a pleasing surprise to all.

GOLD IN ALASKA.

Rich Discoveries of Placer Mines in the New Territory.

SITKA, Alaska, September 6, via San Francisco.—The importance of Alaska as a gold-bearing territory is no longer question. For many months it has been known that gold existed throughout various portions of the Territory in paying quantities, and various explorations for it have been conducted during the Russian occupation of Alaska. Indians from the interior frequently brought to the frontier trading posts specimens of pure native gold, and explorations of the country that have since been made have resulted in substantiating the opinion that the country was rich in placer mines and probably in quartz veins. Some of the first gold bullion product from Alaska left Sitka this day, on the steamer California, for the San Francisco mint. Quite an excitement is rife here in consequence of the lively prospects of extensive discoveries of quartz veins, and an extended rush of miners to this place next season is expected to be the result of this first bullion yield. The placer mines are believed to be extraordinary rich, and indications lead to the belief that discoveries equalling those in Australia during the earlier periods of the gold disclosures there will ere long be made in Alaska.

COLOR LINE IN THE CHURCH.

War Among the Methodist Brethren in the Village of Marlborough.

MARLBOROUGH, N. Y., September 15.—There is war among the Methodist brethren of this village. For a long time past there have been dissensions within the church in regard to the rights and privileges of the large number of colored members. The negroes have no church in this neighborhood, and have for years received their spiritual instruction along with the whites. It has, however, always been customary for the black man to occupy a back seat, and he has never been allowed a voice in the church management. On communion Sundays, the colored brethren have always been obliged to wait until the whites had partaken of the bread and wine.

Recently a spirit of opposition to this order of things has sprung up among the colored folks. A few weeks ago those foremost among the blacks resolved that if race prejudice was to rule within the church it were better that they should sever their connection with the society. They gave notice of this determination, averring that if they could not partake of the Lord's Supper on equal terms with the whites they had no honorable course to pursue but to dissolve fellowship. They were not without allies among the white brethren, and the discussion was carried into the church. It waxed hot, and produced much bitter discussion.

On Sunday last there was not a very large congregation at the "meeting house." The Rev. Dr. Osbon, the regular pastor, was absent, and the pulpit was occupied by a strange minister. Just prior to beginning the accustomed morning service, this preacher announced that a vote was to be taken on the long-mooted color-line question. The congregation was startled. The blacks and their friends were out in all their strength, and when the clergyman demanded a vote there was a decided triumph for equal rights. The whites are not by any means satisfied with this action. It is averred that the preacher acted without authority; that none of the official members of the church knew of the proposed vote; that the whole proceeding was wrong and void. Many have openly declared that they will never again attend the church if the action is not rescinded. The colored members and their white friends, on the other hand, say that if the vote is not accepted as regular and binding they will organize another society.

A conversation with leading members of both factions shows that there is little hope of a compromise. One party is determined that there shall be a change from the old order of things, and their opponents are equally emphatic in declaring that they will not receive a negro into church an equal in all things. The latter party insists that it has been only out of pure generosity that the blacks have been heretofore admitted to church membership, and denounce the action of Sunday last as base and unchristian. The dissatisfaction among the colored folks, it is believed, has been created and intensified by the advice of certain white brethren.

The Corbin Hotel, at Westerville, Ohio, was blown up Sunday night with gunpowder. Henry Corbin, the proprietor, was the only person injured. He attributed the plot to villagers who wished to break up his liquor business. Four years ago his saloon was demolished in the same way, and Corbin left the place, only returning a short time ago. The damage to the hotel and adjoining buildings is about $600.

In the Common Pleas Court, Philadelphia, Monday, Judge Pierce delivered an opinion in the noted Whitaker will case, setting aside the recent verdict for the defendants, and granting a new trial. This is regarded as a partial victory for Dickerson, the attorney, who has produced another will, in which he is a beneficiary. The judge granted a new trial on the ground that one of the parties to the case did not consent to the submission of the will to the jury without evidence.

The Ravages of Consumption.

The fearful death-roll, covering from a fourth to a third of the number in nearly every published bill of mortality, shows how vainly the medical profession is contending with this cruel enemy of our race. Every one feels that some new agent of relief and cure is the imperative demand of the age. That such an agent, acting in perfect harmony with science and the laws of physiology, has been discovered in "Compound Oxygen" we confidently declare. Some of the most brilliant cures which have been made during the past twelve years by this new treatment have been in Consumption. The amplest information will be found in our "Treatise on Compound Oxygen." It is sent free. Address Drs. STARKEY & PALEN, 1112 Girard Street, Philadelphia, Pa. Sept 18, '79.

The result of the investigation of charges against the postmaster at Erie, Pa., will, it is understood, result in his dismissal.

HOW HE WAS SOLD.

PARMENAS MIX'S INTERVIEW WITH ARTEMUS WARD.

The Nature of the Interrogatories Put by Artemus Regarding the Erie Canal.

Detroit Free Press.

I met Artemus Ward but once. I was quite young at the time and was acting as city editor of the Star, published at Schenectady, N. Y. The paper's whole name was the Evening Star. Gregory, the genial philosopher of the Buffalo Express, and other great men were once connected with it. Well, while I was city editor of this sheet I met Artemus. He had come among us to deliver his famous lecture, and the whole place turned out to hear him. Strange as it may appear I didn't go. You see, I was fathoms deep in love with a girl at the time, and had a rival. This rival, who had recently blazed out in a new suit of clothes, was at the lecture, and, sitting by his side, as happy as a kitten with a gill of sweet milk concealed about its person, was the idol of my heart—the alas! fickle queen of my young affections. This is the reason that an hour after the lecture was over, I happened to be standing on a canal bridge looking sadly down into the water. Although I heard no footstops I suddenly became conscious of a presence. Looking up, I saw standing beside me a slender form, whose face in the dim starlight seemed to be an usually sad one.

"Pardon me," he said: "I saw you looking dreamily into the water as if you might be a poet, or perhaps a coroner, and was attracted to your side. Has misfortune overtaken thee, or art thou thinking of a lost one—or two, or a nearer one yet, and a dearer one still, in the shape of a V?"

I explained that I had lost no money, and during the course of the conversation revealed the fact that I was a local editor.

"It must be a terrible strain on the intellect to attend to the duties of a local editor," he remarked, tenderly. "Long, long time ago I had a relative—it is a family tradition—who was a local editor. He succumbed to his tremendous intellectual exertion at an early age. Noble soul, he died in the harness—at all events a stub lead-pencil and an old note-book were found in his coat-tail pocket after his demise. His last words were, 'Set 'em up again,' alluding; you understand, to the type."

I was about to say something in regard to my heavy editorial responsibility, but Ward checked me by asking:

"What creek is this?"

"Creek!" I exclaimed. "Why this is the Erie Canal!"

"How far is it navigable?"

"Why, of course it is navigable from one end to the other," was my surprised reply.

"Well," solemnly replied Ward, "that beats all the streams I ever heard of. By the way, I think I can make out some large boats anchored up the stream there—what are they, propellers or sidewheelers?"

I replied that they were merely canal-boats, and were moved by horse power.

"Ah! I didn't think the stream was as shallow as that," said Artemus.

"As shallow as what?"

"Why, you say that those boats are pulled along by horses. Now, of course they must walk along in front of the boat, musn't they? I used to run a stone boat on my lamented Uncle John's farm, and I distinctly remember that the horses walked along in front."

I mentally declared that I had never before met with such ignorance. I spent some time in explaining the peculiarities of the big ditch, and just as I had begun to think that at last I had set the stranger right on the subject, he knocked my hopes into kindlingwood by remarking:

"I suppose that when the stream dries up in the summer they put the boats on wheels, don't they?"

Then I began again and explained every feature in the canal from New York to Buffalo. How attentively he listened to my words. I can still see that melancholy face lit by the sad light of the stars, and those mournful eyes looking into mine so earnestly; and again I hear, as I did then, after I had talked for nearly half an hour, going fully into the details of boating, the low, pathetic drawl:

"Any saw-mill on this stream that you know of?"

Shortly after some gentlemen came along who seemed to be acquainted with my obtuse friend. Presently one called him Artemus and then I commenced to reflect. I always reflect best when I'm hid away somewhere, so I went and hid myself.

Can They Do It?

Washington Post.

The Union soldiers are trying to make the Republican party show its "disloyal spirit" in the same manner that the Democratic South does—by electing its soldiers to Congress and to good local offices.

Convicts! Convicts!! Convicts!!!

Three more batches arrived yesterday. Here they are: George Livingstone (colored), five years for larceny. Charles Hutcheson (colored) ten years for larceny, both from Henderson county and brought down by Mr. J. A. Williams, sheriff of that county. Next is Nicholas Jennings, white. Stole a horse and won't ride one in consequence for ten years. Accompanied Deputy Sheriff W. B. Young, of Guilford, to his new quarters. The other two Mr. B. F. Stephenson, deputy sheriff of Iredell, contributed, and both were delighted with the change in their worldly prospects, strange as it may seem. Their names are Alexander Bradwell and Thomas Roseboro. Committed a burglary and would have been hanged to-morrow but for the interposition of Governor Jarvis, who commuted their sentences to imprisonment for life. So endeth this chapter.

Worthless Stuff.

Not so fast my friend; if you could see the strong, healthy, blooming men, women and children that have been raised from beds of sickness, suffering and almost death, by the use of Hop Bitters, you would say "Glorious and invaluable remedy." See another column.

DAILY NEWS

GEO. C. JORDAN, Editor and Prop'r.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 18, 1879.

"THE debt shirking Party" is the caption of the Tribune's statement of the debts, "repudiated" or otherwise, and then goes on to state that "the Democrats were equally at fault with the Republicans."

THIS is the best season ever known for sea serpents; they are seen every few days. Why the masters of vessels do not try to capture one is unexplained.

THE wonderful statements of the Tribune in relation to the "repudiating" States are receiving proper attention by financial men residing in the Commonwealths interested, and the damage expected to be done to the credit of the South will fall lightly.

A DISPATCH from Rome announces that the Rev. Mark S. Gross, of Wilmington has been appointed vicar apostolic of North Carolina.

WHY didn't the Tribune seek good authority for its statements regarding State debts in the South instead of collating facts and rumors from the Financial Chronicle, well known as a subsidized journal devoted to a certain moneyed clique?

SITKA dispatches announce rich discoveries of gold in Alaska. Consequently we may expect to hear of a rush to that benighted territory similar to that when the Idaho gold fever broke out. It may turn out that Secretary Seward's purchase was not so contemptible after all.

THE New York Produce Exchange has issued a circular to manufacturers of flour throughout the country, recommending hereafter that all barrels of flour intended for shipment to that market shall weigh 200 pounds, the number of pounds to be marked on each package.

IN speaking of the convention Secretary Sherman characteristically said: "I do not care to say anything about the New York Democratic convention, except that I have a very poor opinion of the New York Democratic convention."

Queer, isn't it? But he will probably have a still poorer opinion of the National Democratic convention next year, as well as that of the Republicans.

IT would defy a convocation of "experts" to arrive at any conclusion from the Tribune's statement of the debt of North Carolina. It would appear as if exceeding pains had been taken to give a running statement of what the State might have owed instead of tabulating it. There are several gross mis-statements which will receive proper attention as soon as a true statement can be furnished.

THE National Greenback Labor Party of Massachusetts, the same which is supposed to have summoned Denis Kearney eastward last year, and the managers of which have more recently been accused of "selling out" to the so-called Democratic party in Massachusetts, Friday, after a disorderly session and some squabbling, nominated General Benjamin F. Butler for Governor and Mr. Wendell Phillips for Lieutenant Governor, together with a full State ticket.

THAT Republican nominee on the Republican legislative ticket in Cincinnati seems to be giving a great deal of trouble in the party. The good Deacon Richard Smith has several times invited him to step down and out, which he has declined to do, and now the State Executive Committee has felt itself called upon to cancel engagements made for him to speak in different places in the State. The colored brother is an excellent voter, from the Republican standpoint, but he doesn't seem to enthuse well on the stump. This matter seems to require some explanation.

SOLD in Durham on the 29th of August 48,940 pounds of tobacco for $11,-112.13. Average per cwt. $22.40 on all sold.—Oxford Torchlight.

These are nice figures to contemplate, but they don't do Raleigh any good. We might as well sit down and calculate the distance of the sun from the earth. And here is another nice little story from the same paper that will stand reading several times:

Messrs. Williams & Bryan contemplate erecting at once a mammoth brick tobacco factory, on the site now used as Captain A. H. A. Williams' stables. The Captain has also purchased a lot from Dr. Taylor, near the location of the Depot, on which he will erect a commodious guano warehouse.

JUDGE TOURGEE, in a private letter to a gentleman of this city, denies his responsibility for all that was ascribed to him in either the New York Tribune or the Philadelphia Times interviews. He states that he accorded no interview to any representative of either of those papers; that while the style assimilates with his, and that he has made remarks similar to those attributed to him, still they have been wonderfully enlarged upon. It would seem, then, that a report of interview is not in anywise to be relied on in all cases. This feature of journalism is fast becoming a nuisance. It is manifestly unjust to ascribe to any person, be he friend or foe, sentiments that he has never given utterance. Such a course may temporarily advantage a party in a political warfare or a journal on the ground of enterprise, but ultimately will furnish a most unsavory reputation for trickery and untruthfulness.

THE New York correspondent of the Philadelphia Ledger writes: "The renomination of Governor Robinson settles several things: First, that there is an end, for the present at least, of Tammany Hall and Tammany Hall dictation to the Democratic party outside of this city. Second, that Mr. Samuel J. Tilden, in thus overthrowing 'Boss' Kelly, has placed himself in a position to command the electoral vote of this State in the next Democratic National Convention. Third, that with the upsetting of the Tammany machine at Syracuse must come a general rebellion against its authority even here in the city, inasmuch as the genus politician is ever on the alert, like the rat, to desert a sinking ship. Fourth, that as 'Boss' Kelly and the Tammany general committee are on record as declaring they would never support Robinson, they have now the alternative presented of 'eating crow' or placing themselves in the awkward position of helping to elect the Republican ticket. Either way it is a bitter draught, but it will have to be swallowed. As for Kelly himself, he will probably send in his resignation from the general committee at once."

GEN. WOODFORD'S STATEMENT.

It was a matter of some surprise that when the dispatch announcing the acquittal of Gully, charged with the murder of Judge Chisholm, appeared in the New York Tribune that no editorial comments on the subject appeared—and since that time that journal has been studiously silent concerning it. Judging from its usually violent tone, it was reasonable to infer that the trial had been eminently fair throughout its conduct, for if there had been a single salient point it would assuredly have been seized upon.

And now to corroborate this view comes General Stewart L. Woodford, of New York, who went to DeKalb to assist the prosecution and escorted Mrs. Chisholm to that place, where she had been summoned as a witness. He states that Judge Hamm did his duty fearlessly and justly; that if he erred at all in his rulings it was in favor of the prosecution and against the defense. That District-Attorney Ford did his duty well and bravely. "I studied critically his conduct of the case. He had prepared it with care and tried it with good sense and sound professional judgment. He was assisted by Judge Ware, an ex-chancellor of one of the Mississippi districts, and by Joshua L. Morris, of Vicksburg, who is certainly one of the most logical and forcible criminal lawyers whom I have met at any bar. I think that the prosecution made out a clear and complete case of murder. The charge of the judge was distinct, direct and positive, and yet the jury were only out long enough to take one ballot and write their verdict, which, under the Mississippi law, has to be written and signed by the jurors."

He further states that "the jury was fairly drawn; of the seventy-five names drawn from the special venire, fifty-one were served and presented themselves in court. Of these twenty-five were black and twenty-six were white. Whatever else may be said of Kemper county, it must be frankly admitted that the jury list of the county, is fairly made up. It contains over 2,000 names. Two-fifths of this number are blacks and three-fifths white. The officers charged with making this list have done their duty impartially, and the special panel drawn from this entire list was honestly drawn."

And after all these admissions he pronounces the trial "farcical." We believe it was Daniel Webster that made a slighting allusion to the verdict of a petit jury, and the General seems to be of the same opinion, with this difference that the jury in this case foreswore themselves. The meager details as telegraphed by the Associated Press are not sufficient on which an outsider can base a fair judgment; but it would seem after what the General has admitted that the jury was, like juries in general, liable to form its own conclusions in the matter, whether right or wrong.

If the accused committed the murder the law should certainly be enforced and justice meted out to its full extent; but in this country every person is supposed to be innocent until proven guilty, and the jury makes the decision as to the guilt or innocence of the party accused.

POLITICAL NOTES.

It is very evident that Messrs. Conkling and Cornell do not anticipate a walk over for the Radical ticket in New York. They are preparing for heavy work to the extent of a most vigorous campaign.

The colored man on the Hamilton county, Ohio, Radical ticket is almost as attractive to the voters of his party as Wendell Phillips will be to the so-called "Butler Democrats" of the Bay State. Such nominations have an irresistible power—of the centrifugal sort.

The sudden discovery of the Radicals that their party is, and always has been, the special friend and champion of foreign-born citizens, has sent a sonorous snicker across the continent. It is understood that Mr. Anthony, of Rhode Island, is to go forth on a lecturing tour to impress this remarkable claim on the minds of our adopted citizens.

The Portland (Maine) Argus mentions as a rumor that Senator Blaine spent $20,000 of his private fortune to carry that State for the Republicans last Monday. The same paper asserts that the Republican campaign in Maine cost that party $250,000.

Perhaps it was all Blow.

Brooklyn Eagle.

The sudden break in the political news from Maine is somewhat mysterious. When the last accounts reached us it appeared to be doubtful whether or not the Republican candidate had been elected by the popular vote. A victory in Maine, in the year preceding a Presidential election, in which it had been for so long a time doubtful whether the Republicans have a clear majority in that State or not, is a victory of that kind which will be very apt to place the average Republican in the position of the Irishman's parrot, which did not talk much, because he was so busy thinking.

"The Weakness of Magnanimity."

Washington Post.

We are inclined to think that the Baltimore Methodist means to abuse Casanave for taking that $500 from Mr. Hayes, when it says "that the quintessence of scoundrelism is to take advantage of the weakness of magnanimity." This is strong language for a religious journal, and we don't see any justification for it. Mr. Hayes got off very cheaply. When he accepted the stolen Presidency he became liable for such liens as that of Casanave, and his friends are certainly barred from abusing the returning board thief.

Rogers' Distinction.

New York Sun.

At the present writing William K. Rogers is de facto President of the United States. He occupies the White House, the mansion inhabited by Presidents from Adams down to Grant, and conducts the executive business necessary to the administration of the affairs of nearly fifty million people.

Lusus Naturae.

Wilmington Review.

A week or two since, one of the superintendents of the hands engaged at the rock quarry, about three miles from Rocky Point, in Pender county, found the egg of a terrapin concealed beneath a fragment of rock. He secured the egg and handed it to Mr. Thomas Williams, chief superintendent, for examination. Mr. Williams, being busy at the time, put the egg in his pocket until he could spare the time to constitute himself an "investigating committee on the subject of terrapin eggs. Being thus piconholed, in accordance with general principles, the matter was forgotten until after the lapse of many days, and was then only brought to notice by his searching his pocket for some article that he usually carried there, when he discovered, not a terrapin egg, but a terrapin, alive and kicking. Whether Mr. Williams feels any very strong maternal regard toward the terrapin or not, we are not prepared to state.

VEGETINE

For Bilious, Remittent, and Intermittent Fever,

Or what is more commonly termed FEVER AND AGUE, with pain in the loins and throuh the back, and indescribable chilly sensation down the spine, an irresistible disposition to yawn pain in the eyes, which is increased by moving them, a blue tinge in the skin, and great listlessness and debility, Vegetine is a safe and positive remedy. It is compounded exclusively from the juices of carefully selected barke and herbs, and so strongly concentrates that it is one of the greatest cleansers of the blood that is or can be put together. Vegetine does not stop with breaking Chills and Fever, but it extends its wonderful influence into every part of the human system, and entirely eradicates every taint of disease. Vegetine does not act as a powerful cathartic, or debilitate the bowels and cause the patient to dread other serious complaints which must inevitably follow; but it strikes at the root of disease by purifying the blood, restores the liver and kidneys to healthy action, regulates the bowels, and assists Nature in performing all the duties that devolve upon her.

Thousands of invalids are suffering today from the effects of powerful purgative nostrums, frightful quantities of quinine, and poison doses of arsenic, neither of which ever have, or ever could, reach the true cause of heir teomplaint.

Vegetine

works in the human system in perfect harmony with nature's laws, and while it is pleasant to the taste, genial to the stomach, and mild in its influence on the bowels, it is absolute in its action on disease, and is not a vile, nauseous Bitters, purging the invalid into false hope that they are being cured. Vegetine is a purely Vegetable Medicine, compounded upon scientific principles. It is indorsed by the best physicians where its virtues have been tested, is recommended only where medicine is needed, and is not a mixture of cheap whiskey sold under the cloak of Bitters.

GIVES HEALTH, STRENGTH, AND APPETITE.

My daughter has received great benefit from the use of Vegetine. Her declining health was a source of great anxiety to all of her friends. A few bottles of the Vegetine restored her health, strength, and appetite. N. H. TILDEN,
Insurance and Real Estate Agent, No. 49 Sears Building, Boston, Mass.

Vegetine.

POLICE TESTIMONY.

BOSTON, Nov. 18, 1875.

Dear Sir,—During the past five years I have had ample opportunity to judge of the merits of Vegetine. My wife has used it for complaints attending a lady of delicate health, with more beneficial results than anything else which she ever tried. I have given it to my children under almost every circumstance attending a large family, and always with marked benefit. I have taken it myself with such great benefit that I cannot find words to express my unqualified appreciation of its goodness.

While performing my duties as a Police Officer in this city, it has been my lot to fall in with a great deal of sickness. I unhesitatingly recommend Vegetine, and I never knew of a case where it did not prove all that was claimed for it. Particularly in cases of debilitated or impoverished state of the blood, its effects are really wonderful, and, for all complaints arising from an impure state of the blood, it appears to work like a charm; and I do not believe there are any circumstances under which Vegetine can be used with injurious results; and it will always afford me pleasure to give any further information as to what I know about Vegetine.

GOSSIP FOR THE LADIES.

Piano Music.

O! hark to the strains of the jin-
g ing piano
That float like the wails of a gathering storm—
Tinkle, ting, tink, from eight in the evening;
Rumble, dum, dump, till past two in the morn.
Arpeggios, staccato, andante, tranquillo,
Con dolore, allegro, nixcumarouse—
All of it fruit of the manipulation
Of a music struck miss in a neighboring house

I've seen her by day. She's as fair as an angel
With dark waving hair and eyes
sparkling bright,
But however angelic she is in the daytime,
The devil possesses her soul in the night.
"The Sweet By and By," with countless variations,
"The Last Rose of Summer!" O!
long fading rose,
"The Storm," by Blind Thomas, with hideous thunder,
And other wild thunderings lull my repose.

I idolize music from bass drums to bagpipes;
I drink in the strains of Apollo's sweet song;
I worship Rossini, Beethoven, and Verdi;
For Auber and Weber I painfully
long;
But hear her maniacal interpretation—
Dingle, dink, pinkle, pink, grumble, gram, grump;
Exquisite torture of auriculation—
Toopey, toop, pookey, pook, plunkey, plung, plump. —New York Sun.

The panier rears its head in triumph. Such a thing as killing the thing is impossible.

Wear what you will, and pay no regard to what your neighbor wears, and you will be in the fashion.

A correspondent, writing from Newport, says: "Just now mauve and lilac stockings are very conspicuous here." It was probably a mouse among the girls.

"A Bridgeport girl got a button in her ear some years ago, and has had terrible attacks of headache since."—Danbury News. We have always advised that young men ought to see to it that the breast buttons of their coats are kept securely sewed on.

When Payne, the author of "Home, Sweet Home," returned to Boston after a long absence in Europe he called upon a lady, an old school-mate, who said: "Mr. Payne, don't you find Boston much changed?" "Yes, madam," he answered, "very much—I receive many invitations to attend church, and very few to dinner."

An exchange says Pennsylvania Dutch girls make good preserves, but it doesn't say how much sugar you take to a pound of Dutch girl, nor how long you let 'em boil. We have seen Dutch girls so well preserved that they were not compelled to resort to the counterfeit contrivances and artifices of the modiste, dentist, et al. The recipe for preserving Dutch girls should be published.

We cannot conceive woman as distinct, distant, unrelated; she seems so personal, concrete, so near; yet we can never quite come up to her discernments, nor gainsay their delicacy and truthfulness. The very name of woman becomes soiled if we seek to be related to her by the coarse ties of appetite instead of the charm of ideas. Endowed with magnetic gifts, by necessity of sex, a realist and diviner, she lives nearest the cardinal facts of existence, instinct with the mysteries of love and fate; a romance ever attaching itself to her name and destiny.—A. B. Alcott.

Beautifiers.

Ladies, you cannot make fair skin, rosy cheeks and sparkling eyes with all the cosmetics of France, or beautifiers of the world, while in poor health, and nothing will give you such good health, strength, buoyant spirits and beauty as Hop Bitters. A trial is certain proof. See another column.

Cuticura

REMEDIES

Have speedily and permanently cured Humors of the Skin and Scalp of Children and Infants afflicted since birth.

The treatment prescribed in such cases is mild doses of the CUTICURA RESOLVENT, a perfectly safe yet powerful blood purifier, and the external use of CUTICURA, the great skin cure. The CUTICURA SOAP should be the only soap applied to the diseased skin for cleansing purposes.

Humor on a Child

Since Birth Cured, after faithful Medical Treatment had failed.

Messrs. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen, My little son, two years of age, has had a humor on one side of his face since he was born, which during the last four months has spread over the entire side of the face, the child ear, and side of the head. It must have itched and irritated him a great deal, as he scratched the surface all the time, no matter what was applied. I used many remedies by advice of friends and my physician without benefit until I found CUTICURA, which immediately allayed the itching and inflammation, and entirely cured him. Respectfully, JOHN L. SURRY.
With Wadsworth Manufacturing Co.
BOSTON, April 15, 1878.

NOTE. Once cured, the skin may be rendered soft and fair by using the Cuticura Soap exclusively for toilet or nursery purposes.

CHILDREN AND INFANTS.

More Cures of Skin and Scalp Affections by the Cuticura Remedies.

Fred. Rohrer, Esq., Cashier Stock Growers' National Bank, Pueblo, Colo ado, writes: "I am so well pleased with its effects on my baby, that I cannot afford to be without it in my house. It is a wonderful cure, and is bound to become very popular as soon as its virtues are known to the masses."

J. S. Weeks, Esq., Town Treasurer, St. Albans, Vt., says in a letter dated May 28: "It works to a charm on my baby's face and head. Cured the head entirely, and has nearly cleaned the face of sores. I have recommend it to several, and Dr. Plant has ordered it for them."

M. M. Chick, Esq., 41 Franklin St., Boston, says: "My little daughter, eighteen months old, has what the doctors call Eczema. We have tried 'most everything, and at last have used CUTICURA, and she is almost a new child, and we feel very happy."

Prickly Heat.

Incidental to the Texan Climate.

Messrs. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen.—Enclosed please find one dollar for a large box of CUTICURA. The small one that I received some time ago has been very efficacious, especially in Prickly Heat or Rash, as some people call it. I am noising it about. Yours truly, THOMAS W. BUCKLEY.
MASON, Texas, Sept. 22, 1878.

CUTICURA is a most valuable external application. It heals all cuts, bruises, and abrasions of the skin, restores the hair when destroyed by scalp diseases, removes dandruff and keeps the scalp clean and the hair soft and pliable. It is as agreeable as it is effective, and is ably assisted, in every case by the CUTICURA SOAP, which is particularly recommended to mothers for cleansing the skin and scalp of infants and children. It is Toilet as well as Medicinal, and is the most fragrant and refreshing soap for the nursery and bath of any these prepared.

Parents have our assurance that these remedies contain nothing injurious to the youngest infant, evidence of which may be found in the certificates of Dr. Hayes and Prof. Merrick accompanying each remedy.

The CUTICURA REMEDIES are prepared by Weeks & Potter, Chemists and Druggists, 360 Washington Street, Boston, Mass., and are for sale by all Druggists. Price of Cuticura, small boxes, 50 cents; large boxes $1. Resolvent, $1 per bottle. Cuticura Soap, 35 cents per cake; by mail, 50 cents; 3 cakes, 75 cents.

TUTT'S PILLS

SYMPTOMS OF A
TORPID LIVER.

Loss of Appetite, Bowels costive, Pain in the Head, with a dull sensation in the back part, Pain under the shoulderblade, fullness after eating, with a disinclination to exertion of body or mind, Irritability of temper, Low spirits, with a feeling of having neglected some duty, Weariness, Dizziness, Fluttering at the Heart, Dots before the eyes, Yellow Skin, Headache generally over the right eye, Restlessness with fitful dreams, highly colored Urine.
IF THESE WARNINGS ARE UNHEEDED, SERIOUS DISEASES WILL SOON BE DEVELOPED.

TUTT'S PILLS are especially adapted to such cases, one dose effects such a change of feeling as to astonish the sufferer.

CONSTIPATION.

Only with regularity of the bowels can perfect health be enjoyed. If the constipation is of recent date, a single dose of TUTT'S PILLS will suffice, but if it has become habitual, one pill should be taken every night, gradually lessening the frequency of the dose until a regular daily movement is obtained, which will soon follow.

Dr. I. Guy Lewis, Fulton, Ark., says:
"After a practice of 25 years, I pronounce TUTT'S PILLS the best and most efficacious medicine ever made."

Rev. F. R. Osgood, New York, says:
"I have had Dyspepsia, Weak Stomach and Nervousness. I never had any medicine to do me so much good as TUTT'S PILLS. They are as good as represented."

HOSTETTER'S

BITTERS

Fever and Ague is most common in the spring, but most severe in the fall and winter. It is strictly a malarious disease, and so surely as the Bitters are adopted, so surely will the individual who adopts this precaution be exempted from its pains and penalties. Add to this its value as a stomachic and anti-bilious agent, and who will venture to gainsay its claims to the first place among family medicines.

L. R. Wyatt.

Attention is called to the advertisement of this gentleman, to be found in to-day's NEWS. Mr. Wyatt keeps constantly on hand a large and selected stock of groceries, provisions, bagging and ties, fertilizers, etc. His house is situated on Wilmington street, opposite the Market, and he deservedly enjoys a fine run of custom. Give him a call when you need goods in his line, and be assured you will meet with a kind reception.

The New York Commercial Bulletin, of the 13th, states that "Mr. Yeargan, of Yeargan, Petty & Company, Raleigh, N. C., is in the market."

Mr. F D Darling, of Boston, is at the National, and will again enter the field of cotton buyers.

Postal Matters.

Postal cards spoiled in printing or otherwise, which have never been used, will be redeemed at any postoffice in stamps, stamped envelopes or new postal cards, at the rate of four cents for every five cards, in whatever quantities presented. Under the old law postal cards spoiled could not be redeemed.

Proprietors of hotels, officers of clubs, etc., should not hold unclaimed letters longer than ten days, except at the request of the person addressed. They should be returned to the postoffice as soon as it is evident that they will not be claimed.

U. S. Commissioner's Court.

Commissioner Purnell yesterday had Jerry Evans before him for a preliminary examination, to find out whether he was a Juggernaut (jug-or-not). It will be remembered that Jerry was picked up upon the charge of attending public gatherings and dispensing "corn juice" from a moonshine jug. After a careful examination, there being no evidence to prove him to be anything but a man, he was released; and Jerry being a pilgrim, concluded, in lieu of sacrificing himself, to go home, which he did, at a pretty rapid pace.

Davy Jones Deserts his Locker.

Davy Jones colored, has been using a cell in the county jail as a sleeping apartment for some time, with the key turned on the outside.

He yesterday succeeded in giving bond for his appearance at court, to account for the unlawful possession of a certain pair of shoes, and so deserts his Locker (Mr. Bryan the jailor).

Mr. Bryan may have a successor in the personage of the "locker" of a certain institution in the western suburbs of this city, yet.

The Jewish New Year.

Within the Hebrew month of Tishri will be celebrated three of the Jewish festivals, viz.: the "New Year," "Day of Atonement," and the "Feast of Tabernacles." According to the calender the "New Year" of 1879, occurs on the 17th and 18th of September, commencing last night, and by Jewish computation is the 5640th anniversary of the world. It is also called Yom Hasikkaron, or "Day of Memorial," and is the beginning of the civil year. The command for its observance is to be found in Lev. xxiii: 24. It is a day strictly observed by those of Hebraic faith, and one on which "no servile work is to be done." On it, and during the ten days succeeding, called the "Ten Penitential Days" (Aseret Yemah Teshubah), rigid self examination is made into the acts of the preceding year, and every proper effort made to correct the errors of the past and mark out a future more in accordance with the expressed will of the Almighty. To assist in this purpose supplicatory (Selechot) prayers are said every morning and evening in addition to the usual service.

Probably there is no Church in the world whose members pay stricter attention to the tenets and commands of the faith than the Hebrews. Although for hundreds of years the term "Jew" has been considered synonymous with every word that implied meanness and cheatery; although throughout the mediæval ages a Jew was despised for his nationality—the whole race for time and eternity being held responsible for the crucifixion of Christ—and was only tolerated for his ability to stand a good "squeezing" when money was wanted, a new era has arrived, and the Jews are rightly accorded their true position in the social, political and mercantile world. There are, of course, objectionable persons to be met with among them, and the same can be found in any race. The action of Judge Hilton in relation to the Saratoga hotel, and the still more recent action of Mr. Corbin excluding Jews from his property at Coney Island have not met with approval from the people at large, and it is not likely that another fulmination of like nature will issue very soon. Even the publishers of Webster's Dictionary have discontinued the objectionable definition of the word "Jew." The subjoined paragraph is copied from the Philadelphia Sunday Chronicle:

"In no way, it seems to us, can our generosity and sense of justice manifest itself in better and nobler ends than to acknowledge, at even this late day, that Christianity has not, and will not, fulfill the great mission we believe it has to perform so long as it tolerates the slightest injustice in word or in deed to the Jew; the Jew who was selected by God himself to be the medium of communicating to the world the sum and substance of all laws—the Ten Commandments; the Jew to whom we are indebted for the first knowledge of the living God, and those beautiful ethics which make the whole world akin; the Jew whose religion to-day was that of our Saviour nineteen centuries ago; the Jew of whom the present Premier of England once said, in his place in Parliament, when repelling an attack upon his lineage, "whose ancestors were princes while yours were slaves;" the Jew, whom we meet daily and are taught to respect because of his upright bearing, charitable acts, intellectual vigor, rare social qualities, and all else that are essential for good neighborhood and citizenship. Of this proud race we write, knowing that we are in accord with and echo the best feelings of every intelligent member of the community."

Another Testimonial.

Professor H. W. Reinhart, of Thomasville, writes: "I heartily commend the use of MOORE'S SCHOOL HISTORY OF NORTH CAROLINA and shall use it myself." Alfred Williams & Co., Publishers, Raleigh, N. C. Sample copy by mail, post paid, for seventy cents.

Justice's Court.

Justice Barbee had almost a holiday yesterday. Only one trivial case before him; that of a party charged with keeping an unlawful fence, which was properly disposed of.

R. B. Andrews & Co., are the first to get in the fall and winter styles of hats for men and boys, which they are selling at their usual low prices. They carry the largest stock of the latest styles in the State—not only in hats and caps but clothing of all sizes and grades, which they are selling at the lowest prices in the city. Being the oldest house in their line in the place, their unusual business facilities give them an advantage not enjoyed by younger establishments.

Weather Probabilities.

Cold, with high winds and rain. Exposure to this weather is sure to produce colds and kindred diseases; and the best remedy we know of is Hall's Balsam for the Lungs. Always keep it in the house, and you will be on the safe side.

How to Grow Fat.

Just now when so many fat people are trying to grow lean, we would suggest that it would be a good idea for the lean ones to try and grow fat. To do this keep the bowels and liver regulated with Mott's Liver Pills, and your digestion will be good, and you will grow fat rapidly.

BOVINE, MISSISSIPPI, April 22, 1879.—The following correspondence will explain itself: A. WADDILL, ESQ., LYNCHBURG, VA.—Dear Sir: Observing a certificate from you in reference to the "Iron and Alum Mass," of the Seven Springs, in Washington county, Va., in relation to its efficacy for Liver Diseases, would you have the kindness to inform me whether you used the "Mass" or the "Water;" also, a description of the symptoms and such other information as you may deem pertinent. I am a long-time sufferer with Liver Complaint, and naturally feel very anxious on the subject of a remedy that will afford me even temporary relief. Your early reply will greatly oblige, very respectfully, WILLIAM BARR.

LYNCHBURG, Va., May 12, 1879.—WM. BARR, Esq., Bovine, Mississippi—Dear Sir: Your inquiry in regard to the "Liver case" which was effectually cured in my family from using the "Seven Springs Mass," is before me. The case referred to in my certificate was that of my wife's sister, who is now in her 80th year, and has been a member of my family for the last 27 years. She had been afflicted with Liver Disease for 30 years, sometimes almost dying with pains in the back, breast, and heaviness of the chest, heart-burns (intensely), sick stomach, vomiting, &c. I procured a few bottles of the "Mass" for her, and very soon after she began the use of it, her health commenced to get better, and she continued steadily to improve, and at this writing, so old, seemingly in as good health as a person who had never been afflicted with these diseases. She attributes her cure entirely to the efficacy of the "Seven Springs Mass." I regard it one of the greatest family medicines we have access to, not only for such diseases as above indicated, but for various other complaints for which it is recommended. Hoping these answers satisfactory, I am, very truly, A. WADDILL, Proprietor Lynchburg News.

It is asserted that the ordinary cosmetics used by ladies are productive of great mischief. We believe this is so, and that a better means of securing a beautiful complexion is to use some blood medicine like Rosadalis, the great Southern Remedy, which cleanses the blood and gives permanent beauty to the skin.

Why Will You

Allow a cold to advance in your system and thus encourage more serious maladies, such as Pneumonia, Hemorrhages and Lung troubles when an immediate relief can be so readily attained. Boschee's German Syrup has gained the largest sale in the world for the cure of Cough, Colds and the severest Lung Diseases. It is Dr. Boschee's famous German prescription, and is prepared with the greatest care, and no fear need be entertained in administering it to the youngest child, as per directions. The sale of this medicine is unprecedented. Since first introduced there has been a constant increasing demand and without a single report of a failure to do its work in any case. Ask your Druggist as to the truth of these remarks. Large size 75 cents. Try it and be convinced.
